Sweeping Drive By Yanks And French Towards Hitler's National Redoubt

PATTON'S TROOPS NEAR REGENSBURG

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, April 24.—Announcement of the long-awaited junction between American and Russian troops in Germany was expected shortly in Paris today to climax news of a sweeping drive into Adolf Hitler's Bavarian national redoubt.

Three large areas of southern Germany already have been isolated by American and French troops closing in on Munich, the birthplace of Nazism.

Only 50 Miles Away

Latest reports placed advance Allied units only 50 miles from the great city, capital of Bavaria.

The Allied offensive in south Germany is "rolling," a spokesman for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said.

Troops of the United States Seventh Army and the French First Army have captured Ulm and Danau, Augsburg is now under direct threat of Seventh Army troops only 44 miles away while Third Army forces are closing in on Regensburg.

Near Regensburg

One unconfirmed report placed Lieut. George S. Patton's forces only 50 miles from Regensburg but official dispatches made the distance twelve miles.

British troops battling toward Bremen advanced to points within three miles of the southern end of the great North Sea port. An impenetrable blackout again.

Only four-hundredths of an inch of precipitation is needed to bring April's precipitation to the normal point, and indications now point to an excess being recorded for the month. The total precipitation to date has been 3.38 inches. The normal rainfall for April is 3.42 inches.

The second automobile inspection period during 1945 will begin May 1 and expire July 31 with little chance of an extension of the deadline. State Secretary of Revenue David W. Harris announced today. "Unless an emergency arises near the close of the impending period there definitely will be no extension," he declared.

Lovers of nature can be seen every Sunday hiking through different parts of the rural districts in search of oddities in plant life. As soon as weather becomes warmer their numbers will increase.

Groundhogs have sore teeth this time of year according to Naturalist Owen Fox. "I put out some corn on the cob. They chewed around the ear and then let it alone which shows they have sore teeth," he reported.

North Hill dogs are upsetting garbage cans, according to reports to police. In persons who arise in the morning and find they have a job to gather the refuse and deposit it in cans. Owners apparently do not respect the quarantine on dogs but may be sued if their dogs bite pedestrians.

Dumbarton Oaks Plan Facing Amendments

By LEON PEARSON
(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—As the stage was set today for tomorrow's world premiere of the United Nations drama, the delegates made it clear that they do not intend to give rubber-stamp approval to the Dumbarton Oaks proposals.

Instead, they will offer substantial amendments, which it accepted would materially change the basic plan for a peace and security organization.

And the amendments will come not only from small powers who did not participate in the Dumbarton Oaks conversations. They will come from the American delegation as well.

Some Amendments

Here is a summary of the principal amendments which will be thrown into the hopper as soon as the conference gets under way.

1. Three votes for Russia on the general assembly.

British Open Ferrara Drive

Yanks Closing In On Italian West Coast Naval Base Of La Spezia

By MICHAEL CHINIGO
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, April 24.—British Eighth Army forces opened an assault today for possession of the city of Ferrara in eastern Italy as U. S. Fifth Army troops closed in on the west coast naval base of La Spezia.

The drives on Ferrara and La Spezia were intensified as forces of both armies moved up to the Po river across a broad front. Actual positions were not divulged in accordance with a security blackout imposed by Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of the 15th Army group.

Seize Airport

The British seized possession of the airport two miles from the heart of Ferrara, a highway hub which dominated five or six major Nazi escape routes out of northern Italy, and moved in on the town.

Other British columns by-passed Ferrara to the west in a swift flanking movement.

The majority of the American forces reaching the Po encountered only scattered resistance in their advance to the historic waterway.

Fleeing Nazis who jammed the roads north of the Po were punished severely by Allied aircraft which destroyed hundreds of enemy vehicles.

Tokyo Report Says Formosa Bombed

NEW YORK, April 24.—(INS)—The Tokyo radio reported today that approximately 35 American bombers, escorted by an equal number of fighters, raided the Formosa cities of Kankeng and Taichu yesterday.

The broadcast, heard by the FCC, added that a single bomber raided northern Formosa yesterday morning and retired after "blindly bombing civilian homes."

Third Army Advancing Toward Berchtesgaden

By LARRY NEWMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE U. S. THIRD ARMY, Germany, April 24.—U. S. Third Army forces drove today to within 12 miles of the Danube city of Regensburg, 100 miles from Hitler's Bavarian retreat at Berchtesgaden.

Infantry under Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's command captured Berchtesgaden, a dozen miles northwest of Regensburg, and entered Beratzhausen, 13 miles west.

Third Army Forces advanced up to 18 miles along a front of 45 miles from the Czechoslovak border to a point west of Regensburg.

The Patton forces moved ahead against practically no resistance until the approaches of Regensburg were reached.

Units of the 11th Armored Division pushed forward 15 miles to enter Cham, 28 miles northeast of Regensburg, from two sides.

Troops of the 26th Division went ahead 18 miles to the southeast to the vicinity of Schongras, 17 miles north of Regensburg.

Other infantry drove into Schwanndorf, 20 miles north of Regensburg.

Resistance Of Okinawa Japs Most Stubborn

By JOHN R. HENRY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

OKINAWA, April 24.—Stubborn Japanese resistance along the entire Naha line today temporarily blocked the southward drive of the American 24th Army corps.

The Yanks fought on under increasing air and artillery support which promised in time to crack the Jap defenses.

Major Gen. John R. Hodge's 24th corps troops were mainly engaged in adjusting their battle line although the 27th division on the right flank pressed forward a short distance in one sector.

Strong Defenses

Stony cliffs, caves, pillboxes and trenches stymied the 96th division in the center of the American line. In this sector the Japs used 600 rounds of artillery fire in one day.

Believe Skeleton Is That Of Man Drowned In '43

PITTSBURGH, April 24.—(INS)—A mysterious headless skeleton found Sunday on an Allegheny river bank in Penn township, today was believed to be Earl Cunningham, 38, Oakmont riverman, who was drowned two years ago, county detectives and morgue attendants said.

The skeleton was at first believed to be that of a girl, but Pathologist T. R. Helmbold revealed, after examination, it was that of a middle-aged man, five feet six inches in height and about 120 pounds in weight.

Cunningham was drowned, along with his stepson, John J. Price, 16, after their boat capsized as they were hauling sand across the river near Oakmont March 18, 1943. The boy's body was recovered a month later.

United Nations Conference Will Open Wednesday

Delegates From Many Nations Are Assembling At San Francisco For Sessions

MANY PROBLEMS ARE CONFRONTED

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—The diplomatic high command of the United Nations gathered in San Francisco today on the eve of the security conference which the common people of the earth hope will drive war out of international relations.

The conference opens tomorrow afternoon with many grave problems to be solved before the United Nations band themselves together to prevent war in the future. Representatives of 46 nations are attending.

'Big Three' Enroute

The "Big Three" foreign secretaries are enroute to San Francisco to resume their pre-conference talks without yet reaching an agreement on the ticklish Polish question. This is the issue as to whether Poland shall be represented in the security organization by its Russian-sponsored Lublin government or by a government composed of members of the Lublin regime and other Poles.

Seeking Agreement

San Francisco Is Temporary World Capital

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—(INS)—San Francisco was truly a world capital today as representatives from nations in all parts of the globe thronged the city streets and crowded into packed hotel lobbies.

An air of near-solennity pervaded the city on the eve of the United Nations conference with final arrangements completed for tomorrow afternoon's opening session.

First voice to be heard when the conference officially gets under way at 4:30 p. m. (PWT) will be that of the American Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius who will introduce President Harry S. Truman. The president will address the conference in a nation-wide radio look-up from Washington.

His speech of welcome is expected to take about ten minutes, following which California's Governor Earl Warren and San Francisco's Mayor Roger D. Lapham will be heard.

Secretary Stettinius is then scheduled to take the rostrum again and give a broad outline of the purposes of the conference.

As delegates marked time today a universal hope that the conference will produce a framework for world amity appeared prevalent.

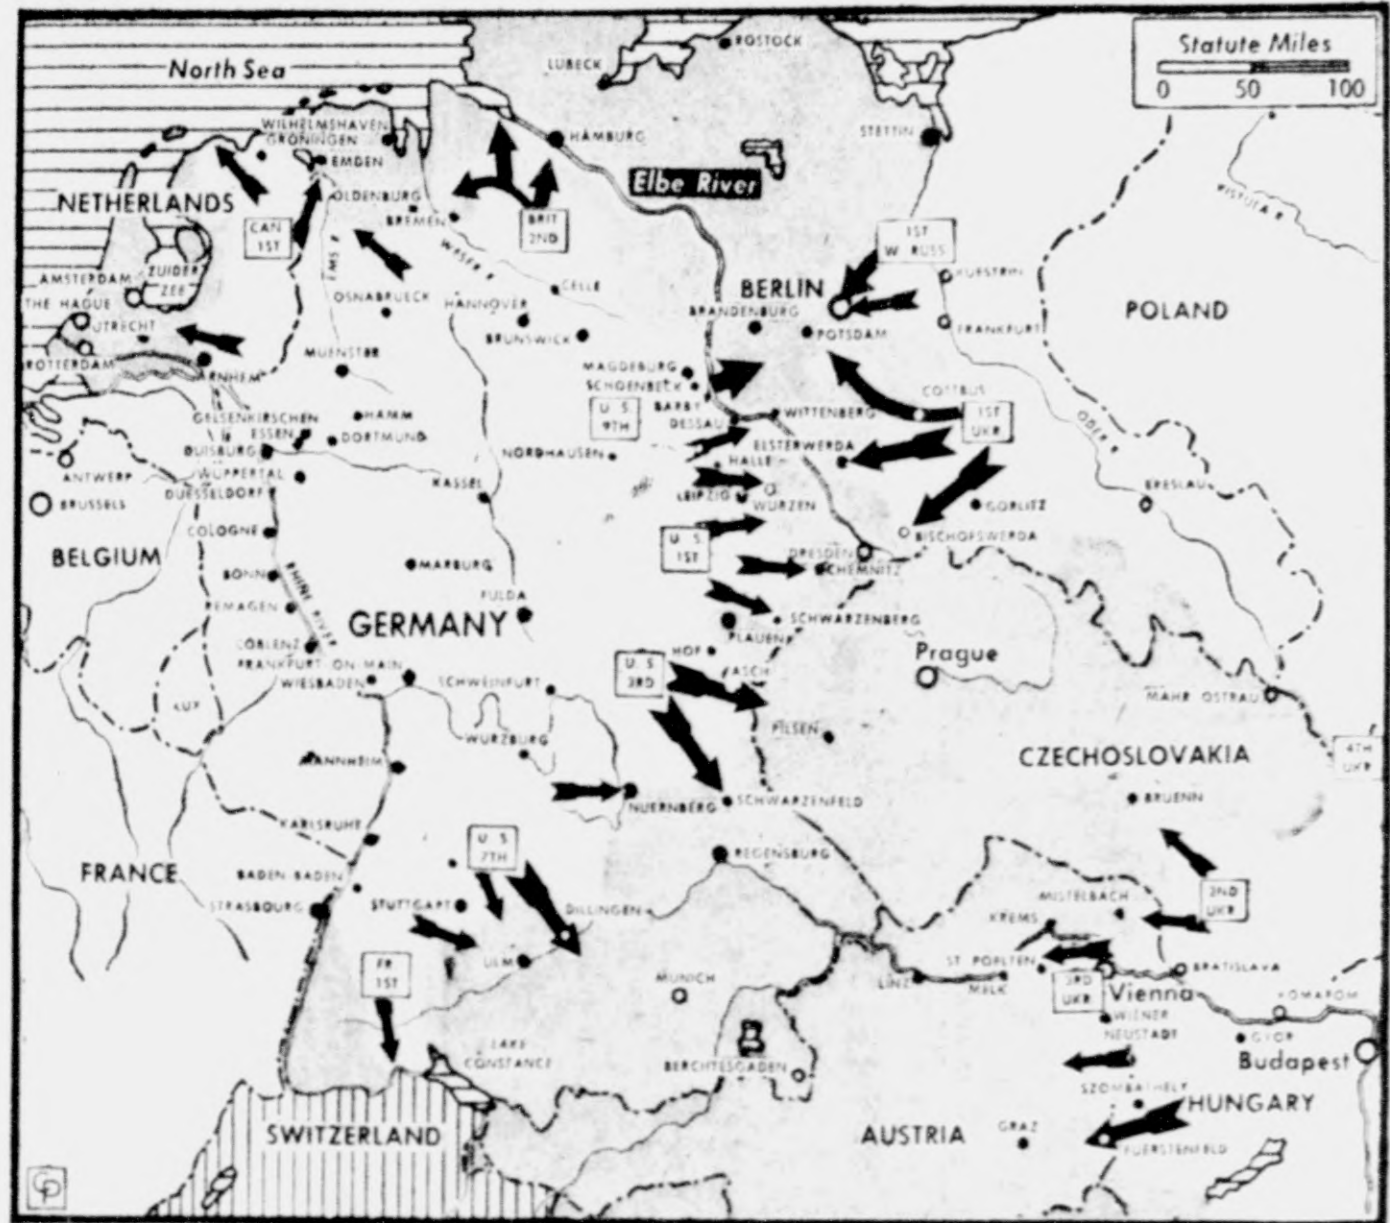

Discharged Army Veteran Accused Of Slaying Wife

KANSAS CITY, April 24.—(INS)—A strapping 6-foot medically discharged army veteran of New Guinea declared today, police said, that he was "not particularly sorry" he had beaten his wife to death because she wanted a divorce to marry another man.

"You're going to have a lot more killings as men begin coming home from overseas and find out their wives have been stepping out and cheating while they were over there fighting," he warned.

The veteran, Roy Bledsoe, 37, pleaded not guilty to first degree murder charges on his arraignment in justice court.

BERLIN ISN'T THE END—YANKS PLUNGE SOUTH

While the battle for Berlin holds the international attention the fight against the Nazis continues as U. S. First, Third and Seventh Armies open a general offensive against the national redoubt of southern Germany. While the world awaited official confirmation of reports the Yanks and the Russians had joined to split Germany into two defeated halves, Allied Armies kept on the move elsewhere. The U. S. First Army cleared Dessau, the Ninth cleaned out Nazi garrisons west of the Elbe, the Third entered Schwarzenfeld, the Seventh seized a bridge over the Danube river, the Canadian First Army mopped up pockets in northern Holland and the French First Army occupied Stuttgart and Friburg and crossed the Danube at several places.

Western Front Today

By International News Service

U. S. Third Army: Drove to within 12 miles of Regensburg and the Danube in part of a vast encircling movement threatening to split Bavaria into three isolated German pockets.

U. S. Seventh Army: Gained steadily to reach points within 44 miles of Augsburg and 50 miles from Munich.

French First Army: Reached a link-up with the right flank of the American Seventh Army and speared to within 18 miles of the Swiss frontier.

U. S. First and Ninth Armies: Marked time pending a formal junction with Soviet troops, now only 19 miles to the east.

Canadian First Army: Beat off a strong enemy counterattack near Wageningen in Holland.

British Second Army: Captured Upphusen, five miles from the outskirts of Bremen and occupied Harsfeld and Esterburg.

Nazis Surrender To Americans To Escape Russians

Swim Mulde River To Give Up To U. S. First Army Forces

—Reds At Elbe

By LEE CARSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH U. S. FIRST ARMY IN GERMANY, April 24.—German soldiers swam the Mulde river today to surrender to American First Army forces, asserting that "the Russians to the east are chasing us."

At Brosa one German sergeant swam the river to give himself up. Another Wehrmacht swimmer arrived at Raguhn, northeast of Halle. He said he had heard a Nazi artillery commander say that the Germans were to "move immediately to fight the Russians."

Soviet spearheads are at the Elbe river northeast of Dresden. Sgt. Alexander J. Balter of Pittsburgh, Pa., an American tanker who speaks Russian, established contact with them yesterday from noon until 6 p. m. at various times.

The Russians sent "cheerful greetings to our American comrades," then they advised the Americans to "stay where you are, we will meet you shortly."

Much of the conversation was spent in trying to explain to the Russians just where the American lines are and how to get there.

Report Laval Is Turned Back At Swiss Border

LONDON, April 24.—(INS)—A Reuter dispatch from Zurich reported that Pierre Laval, former chief of government of the Vichy regime in France, had been turned back by Swiss authorities when he attempted to enter Switzerland today.

Double Probe Of Black Market In Meat Begins

PITTSBURGH, April 24.—(INS)—One of the most powerful vehicles of justice in the nation, a Federal grand jury, today entered the second day of closed hearings as the Steel City became the scene of a double-barreled governmental investigation of Western Pennsylvania's alleged black-market in meat.

While the jury, recalled from last November and made up of 11 men and 11 women, continued its deliberations whether or not to issue Federal indictments for possible offenses against the United States, a senatorial sub-committee, headed by Senator Burton K. Wheeler (D-Montana), today launched its (Continued on Page Two)

Red Tanks Six Abreast Drive At Berlin's Heart

Half Of German Capital Is Now Held By Soviet Invading Forces

INFANTRY RACING TO ENCIRCLE CITY

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, April 24.—Massive columns of Soviet tanks and mobile guns were smashing at the flaming heart of Berlin six abreast today while Red infantry columns raced along the capital's encircling autobahn to ring more than two-thirds of the city.

Soviet correspondents at the front in the German capital said the Nazis were resisting with incredible bitterness but that white flags were beginning to appear in some parts of the city.

Despite sporadic appearances of surrender emblems, however, there was no indication of a general capitulation.

'Flaming Hell'

The Iversla correspondent described the center of the beleaguered city as a "flaming hell." He said many inhabitants had fled the fiery vortex and entered the regions held by Russian troops.

In the seized outskirts of the city, however, Russian traffic officers already were directing traffic in Berlin's crossroads moving vast reserves of infantry and armor for the final battle for the city.

South of Berlin the Soviets crossed the last 10 miles which had separated them from the Elbe river (Continued on Page Two)

Polish Problem Is Not Settled

President Truman Demands That Russia Stick To Agreements Made At Yalta

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(INS)—President Truman stood firm today on his personal insistence that Russia stick to the agreements that Marshal Stalin made with the late President Roosevelt at Yalta.

Two-day conversations on the controversial Polish problem ended in a deadlock with the White House announcement that further discussions will be continued between the foreign secretaries of the United States, Great Britain and Russia at San Francisco.

The announcement followed two conferences between the President and Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov and a series of talks between Molotov, Secretary of State Stettinius and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

The final conference between the three foreign secretaries was concluded shortly before midnight. T. V. Soong, China's foreign minister, joined in the deliberations, after which the four statesmen left by plane for the conference city.

Whereabouts Of Adolf Mystery

LONDON, April 24.—(INS)—The question of the whereabouts of Adolf Hitler remained as puzzling as ever today, and a bevy of reporters placed the Reichsfuehrer at a number of widely separated points. One dispatch from a correspondent with the U. S. ninth army at Blankenburg suggested that Hitler, along with some other Nazi leaders, might be trapped in the Harz mountain pocket west of Berlin. Hitler was pictured as possibly hiding in some cave below American troops in the area.

While Nazi propagandists protested that Hitler was remaining in besieged Berlin to stay with his people to the last, the German werewolf radio, according to the London News Chronicle, strangely described this report as a "foul lie" concocted by the enemy.

Among latest rumors emanating from Switzerland was one that Hitler now had personally taken over the defense of Berlin. Another said Hitler was staying in Salzburg.

Lease War Plants For While, Says Attorney Biddle

Industry More Willing To Take Chance If Property Is Merely Leased

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(INS)—Attorney general Biddle proposed today that the government lease surplus war plants for three to five years, until their "use value" can be determined rather than attempt immediate forced sales.

Biddle warned against disposing of eight billion dollars worth of plants merely by trying to get the best price for the government or selling to the highest bidder.

In his third report to congress on surplus disposal, the attorney general said neither government nor industry should be limited to a "disposal-day" or "Victory-Day" price. The value of a plant can far better be determined after a period of operation, he explained.

Experimentation Necessary

A period of experimentation and development is necessary, Biddle said, particularly in new industries which have mushroomed during the war such as light metals, synthetic rubber and aircraft plants.

The real value of surplus property, Biddle added, lies in its ability to provide postwar jobs and opportunity for new enterprise. Industry will be less reluctant to lease rather than to purchase against a highly uncertain future, the report stated.

In addition, congress was informed that the leasing of war plants will encourage bidding by small business.

The attorney general declared that all American industry ought to be encouraged now to submit bids and prepare plans for the utilization of public plants and equipment without waiting for the property to be declared surplus.

He proposed that bids for surplus plants be required to state the proposed future use, number of persons to be employed and products to be made. Leases, he said, could contain clauses against closing plants to eliminate competition and requiring the lessee to maintain a certain level of employment.

There are more than 1,000 persons per square mile in the Saar district of Germany.

RED TANKS SIX ABREAST DRIVE AT BERLIN'S HEART

to capture Muehlberg only 19 miles from the U. S. First Army troops at Wurzen.

Reports persisted that Russian and American forces already had made contact but the Third day of such rumors still found them lacking official confirmation.

The Soviet communiqué officially located Russian tanks and infantry on three sides of Berlin and some four miles from the heart of the city.

Half Of Berlin Held

Stockholm reports said that the First White Russian Army and the Soviet First Ukrainian Army already had met in the heart of the city and the half of Berlin was in the hands of the Red Army.

Any possible escape routes out of the city were virtually closed by the round-the-clock hammering of Red Air forces and the drum fire of Soviet artillery along the highways to the west.

Moscow reports disclosed that Marshal Ivan S. Konev's columns of First Ukrainian tanks and infantry roared through advances of some 100 miles to break into the southern section of Berlin.

Simultaneously Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First White Russian columns swept around Berlin in a northern flanking movement which engulfed the suburb of Odenburg, 15 miles northwest of the city.

In the first official announcement that the First White Russian Army had crashed into Berlin, Marshal Joseph Stalin's communiqué said Zhukov's columns had advanced more than 60 miles along a sweeping front which engulfed a score of vital localities including Frankfurt on the Oder.

Tremendous Losses

In their twin drives on Berlin and the fighting at the Elbe the Russians again inflicted tremendous losses on the Germans, capturing more than 11,000 while unnumbered thousands of German dead littered the battle fields.

The Soviet communiqué confirmed Nazi reports of fanatical German resistance within Berlin. While the German radio reported that reserves were being brought to the capital from the western front, the Soviets intercepted a radioed Nazi order that any forces within Berlin who attempted to retreat be shot.

Farther south the Fourth Ukrainian Army driving westward through Czechoslovakia toward a junction with the U. S. Third Army, captured the powerful German stronghold in Opatowitz.

ALLIED FORCES DRIVING AHEAD TOWARD MUNICH

descended on movements of the American First and Ninth armies, last reported marking time pending their union with the Soviets, probably on the Elbe river.

Headquarters said late this afternoon it had "nothing to report" on the position or progress of either of these armies.

Gen. Patch's 44th Infantry Division and units of the French First Army captured Ulm on the Danube. The French continued on from 15 to 22 miles southward, taking several other towns.

In the area north of Augsburg the 12th Armored Division expanded its bridgehead across the Danube to 10 miles wide and six miles deep. American and French troops also crossed the Danube southwest of Ulm.

An unconfirmed Luxembourg radio report said that Gen. Patton's men were only six and one-half miles from Regensburg.

Cross Danube

Troops of Lieut. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh Army which swarmed across the Danube over a captured bridge at Dillingen were operating in areas within at least 50 miles of Munich.

French First Army forces neared a linkup with the right flank of the Seventh Army near Ebingen.

Gen. Patch's men and the French made a number of deep armored penetrations to seal off the area, one of which encompassed an area of 500 square miles southwest of Stuttgart.

The second pocket was created in the Black Forest as a result of the southward push by the French to Lake Constance. A third pocket was formed by American troops in the vicinity of Aalen.

The French intensified pressure throughout the Black Forest area to tighten their ring of encirclement. Other French forces heading south reach Pfullendorf, 12 miles north of Lake Constance.

Over Million Prisoners

At headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower it was disclosed that the Allies in the west in the first 23 days of April have taken more than 1,000,000 German prisoners.

An official spokesman said that the offensive toward southern Germany and Hitler's Bavarian redoubt was "going well."

The drive on the redoubt was stepped up by Gen. Patton in a surprise switch maneuver in which he changed the entire direction of his assault to unleash a large-scale campaign toward Munich and Hitler's retreat at Berchtesgaden.

Gen. Patton's armor gained an additional 15 miles in a southerly direction to strike to within at least a dozen miles of the Danube.

U. S. Seventh Army forces expanding their hold on the Danube near Ebingen and Gen. Patch sent his 12th Armored Division, which already is across the waterway, moving forward to expand the Dillingen bridgehead.

In a fresh southward push of five miles the 12th Armored Division met stiff Nazi resistance.

Capture Suicide Troops

The Germans also resisted fanatically in the pocket north of Ulm. Troops of the 42nd Division commanded by Gen. Patch pushed southwest from Nurnberg to capture a force of Nazi "suicide troops" who were left behind by fleeing Storm Troopers to fight rear guard actions against the Americans.

Supreme headquarters had no new word from the American First and Ninth Armies which apparently remained comparatively inactive, awaiting the reported imminent linkup with Russian troops pushing west in the Elbe river area.

The regular communiqué confirmed the capture by the First Army of the city of Dessau. Fighting was reported in the western part of Ellenburg. Fresh crossings of the Mulde river were made in the vicinity of Ellenburg.

UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE WILL OPEN WEDNESDAY

sian Commissar for Foreign Affairs V. M. Molotov are believed to be seeking agreements on two other perplexing pre-conference problems. One is the admission of Argentina to membership in the United Nations. The other is the far greater problem of governing captured enemy colonial areas in the future.

Issues Discussed

Participation of T. V. Soong, head of the Chinese delegation, in the "Big Three" secretariat talks in Washington plainly indicated both Argentine and the so-called trusteeship issues were discussed.

Some authorities believed the Argentine problem had been settled by the "Big Three" since China is the fourth of the nations sponsoring the San Francisco conference. China would have to join the United States, Britain and Russia in inviting Argentina to send a delegation to San Francisco.

Road Is Charted

This security conference has a charted road to world peace in the agreements reached by the "Big Four" at their Dumbarton Oaks conference in Washington last summer. However, the smaller nations have given notice that they propose to offer many amendments to the Dumbarton Oaks blueprint. Indeed the United States will offer a few modifications of its own to carry out the amendments suggested by the American delegate, Republican Senator Arthur Vandenberg, of Michigan.

Not Peace Conference

The San Francisco conference is not a peace conference. American state department officials stress this point. They assert the gathering here is a conference to create an organization by which all the nations of the earth will remain at peace after peace is once restored to the war-torn world.

So San Francisco carries the hopes of the little people who fight and die in war.

Japanese Aircraft Factory Attacked

GUAM, April 24.—(INS)—Between 100 and 150 American Superfortresses, in their first attack on that target, poured heavy bomb loads upon the Hitachi aircraft factory, only 19 miles west of Tokyo.

The Hitachi factory, situated at Tachikawa, was one of the few remaining Japanese aircraft plants not previously subjected to attack by B-29's.

A broadcast by the Tokyo radio said that "approximately 70" Superfortresses hit the Tachikawa and Tokorozawa air bases, west of the Nipponese capital, and that six of these B-29's were downed and 20 others "heavily" damaged. The FCC heard the broadcast.

probe of the black-market conditions.

To Seek Solution

The senatorial quiz designed chiefly to find a solution to the national meat shortage, moved into Pittsburgh after Western Pennsylvania had been described as "one of the worst meat black-market areas in the country" during hearings before the Senate War Food Investigating committee in Washington.

Arriving a day ahead of the two-day hearings, Senator Wheeler, chairman of the committee, spent yesterday talking to packers and witnesses who will be called on to testify. The Pittsburgh district OPA director, Alvin J. Williams and members of his staff were also called for pre-hearing conferences.

HIS WILL

When one stops to think how the Lord has provided for his people in the way of foods to eat, and other comforts of life, then when one stops to think how the human race, especially the powers that be, try to show the Lord that they can run things in a better way than he can.

It seems we are always interfering in some way, either trying to distribute foods, clothing or something that the Lord has given us for our comforts. At the present time it is coal. He placed all the coal needed for his people in the many hills and valleys of this great country. All he asks is, for people to work a little for themselves, and place these necessities of life where they should be, for the benefit of His people.

We wonder what this country would be, if the human race would try running it according to the Lord's will, and not their own.

Gives Mottos Away
Jumping far off across the bounding deep and hurrying over the prairie lands of the Middle West, I bring you to Flat Rock, O., and C. S. Hunsinger, "The Mottoman."

Hunsinger, who has made a hobby of mottos, or maxims, has a collection of 4,000 or small pieces of wisdom from the best minds. He has his mottos printed on small cards and gives away about 3,000 cards a year "to folks in need of sympathy, cheer or inspiration," he says. "People from all over America have sent me their own favorite mottos in exchange for mine."

Hunsinger sent me some encouraging little thoughts. Here are a few. "Every act is a boomerang." "What kind of a world would this world be, if every one in it were just like me?" "It takes 64 muscles of the face to frown. Only 13 to smile." "Walk right up to your fears. Face them! Say 'Scat!' You will find them usually disappear."

I know some mottos, too. One of my favorites is one from "Alice in Wonderland," spoken by the Red Queen when Alice asked her, "Where are you going your majesty? You are running so hard."

"I'm not going anywhere," snapped her majesty. "Don't you know you have to run to stay where you are?"

You do in Washington.

Local Man Serves As Navy Repairman

(Special To The News)

MARE ISLAND, Calif., April 24.—Frank E. Eberhart, R. D. 2, New Castle, has been training for service aboard some type of navy repair ship at Mare Island Navy Yard, California, it has been announced by the ship repair training unit there.

Like the more highly publicized Navy Seabees, the ship repairmen are a necessity born of battle experience. The units were organized in the summer of 1943 after it became evident that the navy could not fight a long range war without skilled men on the job not far from the fighting.

Eberhart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Eberhart of R. D. 2, New Castle, and was formerly a maintenance mechanic with the Curtiss-Wright propeller division in California.

Although chemical warfare is as old as history, it did not come back into general use until World War I, when Germany initiated the use of toxic gas, flamethrowers and aerial incendiaries.

THE PARENT

PROBLEM

independence and a stepped-up proneness to be very sure of his opinions. Many of us parents never have grown beyond adolescence in these respects.

Parent-child word-fights may be encouraged when the child is not quite sure in his own mind about the accuracy of his judgment or opinion, but still eager to save face.

Need of Cooperation
The most fertile source of parent-child argument is the parent's failure to have cultivated obedience and cooperation in the child in earlier years. Manifestly, this failure and the consequent practices at word-battles, have grown with the age of the child.

Suppose your child is 15, and you wish to abandon quarreling with him. Think through clearly in what instances you should make decisions which you know would bring forth verbal resistance from him. Then out of these instances, consider which of them you can get "get away with" without a fight. Say nothing at all in cases in which you know you are powerless. In others, after having made clear to him in the fewest possible words your decision, refuse to talk back to him. Just let him talk on as he likes. If it is a matter of disagreement of opinion or judgment over a matter unrelated to the youth's control by you, unemotionally announce to him the moment you feel the least bit agitated, that you have no more to say and then keep your word. Under no conditions can you then engage in arguments with your child.

FOOD TO STRENGTHEN THE NATION

It is a well known fact that a deficiency of Vitamins and Minerals in the diet of the average American family existed before the war. Although some improvements have been made in certain foods, it is believed that the deficiency still exists because of the scarcity of some foods.

Regardless of rationing and food shortages it is possible for every housewife to supply her family with balanced meals, although it will require some effort on her part to carefully select and combine the foods that are rich in nutritional value.

Bread is an outstanding example of what can be accomplished with a non-rationed food at low cost. As all housewives know, enriched bread is high in nutritional value and it combines well with almost every other food. There are many ways of combining bread with meat and other rationed foods that not only help to make ration points go further but increase the Vitamin and Mineral content.

Enriched Bread may be used to make appetizing dishes for every meal including breakfast, lunch, dinner, picnics, parties, and desserts. In order to get the maximum food value, it is well to choose the bread containing the highest enrichment. In this community it's Keystone Bread for it contains more Vitamins and Minerals than any other bread that can be bought. Keystone Bread is enriched with extra Vitamins and Minerals to the highest standards set by the United States Government which is greater than the minimum requirement. It is an outstanding contribution toward the Government's program to strengthen the nation.

Final Children's Play 'Pinocchio' Comes Here Friday

Children of New Castle will finally be given the long-awaited treat of the season when "Pinocchio" will be produced here by the Pittsburgh Children's theatre, under the direction of Grace Price, on Friday evening, April 27, at senior high school auditorium.

This marks the final play of the series of three which the Federation Junior club has sponsored here during the season. From proceeds of the project, the club has contributed generously to the United War Fund, the Red Cross, toward the fund for the Christmas party for Deshon annex, and the same fund also helped to have lights put down the lane to the annex, to paint the interior of the annex recreation hall, and to install shuffleboard courts at the annex.

Children of the Margaret Henry Home have been guests of the club for the plays and the club plans further work at Margaret Henry Home.

Nearly 1000 children of New Castle and vicinity have had an opportunity to view two of the Children's theatre presentations, the "Elmer" and the "Shoemaker" in October, and "Snow Treasure" in November. On Friday evening they will have an opportunity to see that favorite of young and old, "Pinocchio."

The story of the little puppet who is carved out of a block of wood by Capetto, the carpenter, has been made into a delightful musical comedy by Beatrice Lewis and Jerrie Haines.

Jerrie Haines, the musical director for the Children's theatre, has composed an entire musical score of sparkling songs. Mrs. Haines is a one-time resident of New Castle and when here took an active part in New Castle Theater Guild productions.

Marshal Petain Enroute To France To Stand Trial

BERN, Switzerland, April 24.—(INS)—Attired in civilian clothes, aged Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, chief of state in the Vichy government of France, arrived in Bern today on his way back to France to stand trial on charges of collaborating with the Nazis.

Petain, whose sudden and unexpected arrival in Switzerland occurred on his 89th birthday, said he had no knowledge of why the Germans had agreed upon his release at this time.

Well-informed Swiss circles, however, thought the idea was Adolf Hitler's own. The Nazis are believed to hope that Petain's appearance at public trial in France may stir up discord and perhaps factional strife.

Report 29 More Japanese Planes Are Destroyed

The others were written off by naval planes of the British fleet which bombed and strafed enemy air installations in the Sakishima group a week earlier.

Change Menus For German Prisoners

NEW YORK, April 24.—(INS)—New menus for German prisoners of war in the Army's Second Service Command area, announced today, indicate that Nazis POWs are going to eat a lot more fatback, sausage, cabbage, carrots and beans and no scarce meats hereafter.

Fresh meats, a conference of army post food service supervisors decided, in the diets of German prisoners will be limited to hearts, livers and kidneys, with liver served five times a month, and hearts and fish three each.

For each 26 days a month, the only meat they will get will be fatback, which will appear on the table as an ingredient of soups, stews, and vegetable dishes.

THE FIRST 75 YEARS

History dates the founding of the petroleum industry to 1861. Yet seven years before that, Charles Lockhart and William Frew, two of the future organizers of The Atlantic Refining Company, already were dealing in oil by the barrel.

In 1861, Thornton Pike and partners sent to London the first shipload of oil to leave this country. Pike was one of the original incorporators of Atlantic on April 29, 1870—when the kerosene lamp still represented the one great use of petroleum.

In the early years of the present century, Atlantic revolutionized the whole petroleum industry by installing the first "tower" stills at its Point Breeze refinery in Philadelphia.

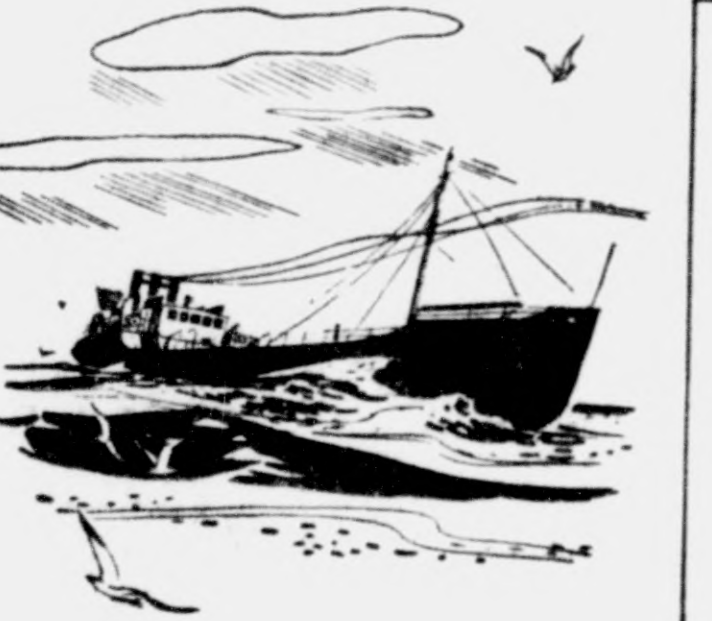

On Baum Boulevard, Pittsburgh, in 1915, Atlantic built the first gasoline service station in the East—the first modern service station in the world. This became the accepted means of selling "gas" as others followed Atlantic's example.

In World War I, Atlantic made the first Allied aviation combat gasoline to surpass Germany's. Atlantic remained the only refiner supplying fighting gas of this quality and it supplied approximately 50% of all the aviation fuel sent overseas while America was at war.

In 1926, Atlantic placed in operation the first pipe stills capable of producing multiple streams of products from a single tower. With three such units—each with capacity of 5000 barrels a day—the company again revolutionized refining methods.

The first deep-sea, oil-welded, self-propelled ship was an Atlantic tanker built in 1930. The all-welded construction technique pioneered by Atlantic's engineers for Atlantic's own fleet helped make possible American seapower today.

Electronics—super science of tomorrow—is working for you today in Atlantic's mass production. Atlantic was first to apply the mass spectrometer to the control of gasoline production—first to make practical use of this invention in any industry.

So numerous are Atlantic's other contributions to World War II production that the record has been summed up as 25 Years' Petroleum Progress Since Pearl Harbor. All Atlantic research today is first for war but out of it will come finer peacetime products.

Funds For Ickes Are Pared Down

Interior Department Fund Requests Are Slashed 27 Percent By Committee

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—An economy-minded House appropriations committee today slashed by 27 per cent the 1946 funds requested by Secretary Harold L. Ickes for the Interior Department.

Acting on the recommendations of a sub-committee headed by Rep. J. E. Johnson (D. Okla.), the committee pruned $38,743,419 from the $141,346,047 requested by Ickes, approving instead $102,602,628 for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Johnson, a thorn in Ickes' side for many years, has been appointed and confirmed by the Senate as a federal judge, but has retained his House seat pending action on the Interior Department bill.

Increase Over 1945

The amount approved, although far below budget estimates, represented an increase of four and a half million dollars over 1945 appropriations, largely for completing reclamation projects deemed important to the department's food program.

The reduction represented a "very substantial cut in practically every activity" of the department, the committee declared. It included a denial of funds for a new assistant secretary whose appointment had already been authorized by Congress.

Hardest hit by the cuts were the Bureau of Reclamation, which received a 33 per cent reduction in funds requested, and the Bureau of Mines, whose 1946 budget was trimmed almost 40 per cent.

More Brutality By Germans Told By French Writers

Men Who Escaped From Nazi Concentration Camp At Buchenwald Tell Of Horrors

PARIS, April 24.—(INS)—The brutality of German civilian overseers, "who treated us worse than the SS men," was described at Supreme Allied Headquarters today by two French journalists who escaped from the Nazi concentration camp at Buchenwald.

The two men, whose sunken eyes were as eloquent as their whispered story of German brutality, were Christian Ozanne, and Maurice Negre, the latter sentenced to 10 years as a "spy" after his arrest in Romania.

Ozanne, who quarried stone for 16 months inside the Nazi murder camp, declared: "We were never allowed to sit. If we did, dogs were set on us."

"The German civilians treated us worse than the SS men. German foremen and engineers were often the most brutal."

"There was a huge factory at Buchenwald where 9,000 men worked and where parts were manufactured for V-1 robot bombs. The Frenchmen's output was usually under the standard set by the Germans. Those who failed in their daily output were given 25 or 50 strokes of the cat."

He said the men in immediate charge of the slave laborers were German convicts.

Negre, pleading for the speedy repatriation of those still in liberated Buchenwald, added:

"As it is impossible to change the organization of this huge concentration of people overnight, the camp foremen are the same German convicts who had been brutalizing us before the arrival of the Americans."

MILITARY BALLOTS

Requests for military ballots are still lagging and to date only about 54 such requests have been made of the county commissioners. Of the fifty-four, thirty-four came from Wampum of which 16 were for Democratic ballots and 16 for Republican ballots. Apparently the reason back of these requests is the local option fight which is now in progress. On June 19 the borough will vote upon whether or not beer and whiskey may be sold legally there.

CHANGE PRECINCTS

Several precinct changes were announced by the county commissioners on Monday. The fourth precinct of the second ward has been changed from the barber shop south of Lincoln avenue on Highland to the gas station at the corner of Park and Highland. This puts three voting precincts within a stone's throw of each other. The sixth precinct is just across Park avenue in the Highland U. P. church and the third is on Park avenue in the fire station.

The voting precinct in Perry township, first precinct has been changed from Kettlers to the fire station. The fifth precinct of the fourth ward has been changed from Du Shane street opposite the junior high school shop building to 711 Arlington avenue.

NEW ALDERMAN

When the voters of third ward cast their ballots for alderman on June 19, a familiar name will not be there, that of Alderman O. H. P. Green. After some forty years of service as alderman in the third ward Squire Green is retiring and Jess Kennedy is the Republican nominee without opposition.

In his four decades of service as alderman Squire Green has handled every kind of a case from simple assault to and including murder. Hundreds of couples have been married by him, thousands of driver's licenses and tag applications have been filled out. As a matter of fact there is probably no legal step which comes under the jurisdiction of an alderman that Squire Green has not handled.

In his spare time he has been an ardent fisherman and the interesting tales he has spun in his office about his fishing experiences will be missed.

Cancer Education Aim Of Fund Now Being Raised Here

Estimate 142 Persons Died Of Disease In Lawrence County During Past Year

Bringing the death rate from cancer down to a local ratio, it is estimated that in Lawrence County in 1944, 142 people died of cancer. One hundred forty-two citizens were taken by a disease which thus far has run wild.

They didn't need to be told that many deaths in Lawrence County in 1944 from cancer. Many of the sufferers could have been spared for useful lives had they taken precautions in the early stages according to Dr. Paul H. Wilson, chairman of the cancer control campaign here.

Education Needed

"There is a need for education among the people," said Dr. Wilson. What appears to be annoying little lumps should never be left go. The person should be examined by a physician and in many cases early treatment will kill the cause of the cancer. Left go it soon spreads and all too shortly the patient is beyond hope.

The cancer control campaign now in progress throughout the nation is for the purpose of educating American people of the first warnings of cancer. Prompt action will save lives.

Here in New Castle the campaign is proceeding along scheduled lines but the need for intensive action has arrived. Solicitors are asked to lend themselves to the work more than ever. Citizens who have not been solicited are asked to mail their contributions in to either the Greater New Castle Association or to Hubert Sadler, treasurer, at the Union Trust Company.

National contributions can be mailed in an envelope which bears only the word "Cancer" as an address.

Half the money contributed locally stays here for educational work and for help in cancer cases.

This is an illusion

but this is NOT!

The average American family gets about twice as much electricity for its money today as it did 15 years ago

YES, the first is a trick, but the second is a fact — a fortunate fact for you.

By using more and more electricity over the years, you've helped us reduce the price to a point where the average family now gets about twice as much electricity as it did 15 years ago for the same money.

Keeping the price of electricity pinned down to the floor in wartime is a much tougher job than keeping a pin-up girl floating in mid-air!

It takes much more than magic. It takes careful planning, hard work and good business management.

BERLIN

Guns of Russian tanks roaring today in Unter den Linden, world-famous "main street" of Berlin, brought the Prussian-born World War II to the very heart and brain of Hitler's Axis.

For along and adjacent to the famous mile-long boulevard, divided by a spacious promenade planted with the lime trees which gave Unter den Linden its name, stand the bomb-battered remains of the chief government buildings of Germany in which heel-clicking Nazis once plotted world conquest.

Final capture of Berlin will see the world's fourth largest city fall into allied hands, but the victory will be chiefly a moral one—for as far back as two years ago the unproud capital of war-mongering Prussia was declared the most-bombed city of the world.

Berlin was from the beginning the No. 1 target of allied bombers—not because it was the capital of Hitler's Reich, but because it marked the greatest concentration of Germany's war industry. Thousands of allied airmen died in countless mass air raids on the city, most of them early in the war when bombers had to fly 1,200 mile round trips from Britain against the world's greatest anti-aircraft defense system.

Although it has been losing weight at the rate of 300,000,000 tons every minute for millions of sugar and beeswax is used to coat years, the mass and power of the shells and planes sun have not been appreciably diminished.

Post-War Autos Will Step Up Job For Traffic Cops

New Cars Will Be Built To Live Up To Newly Developed Fuels—Go
Twice As Fast

By MARTHA KEARNEY

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Traffic cops, who have found business "bad" lately, had better start to get back into business because they have a tough postwar problem coming at them.

Postwar cars will weigh half as much, cost half as much and go twice as far and fast as pre-war models, according to Robert Russell, president of the Standard Oil Development Co. since they cost half as much as previous models there will be many more cars on the road.

"When automobile manufacturers have time to build their engines around new fuels which have been developed we will have a car immeasurably superior to any we have had before," Russell said.

"Postwar cars will go about twice as fast, about twice as far on 100-octane gas, get off to a quicker start, climb hills more easily and take jumps much more readily."

Russell estimated that it would take from two to four years after the war for manufacturers to incorporate all wartime improvements into one car.

"After the war the first step will be for manufacturers to modify the heads of cars now in use so that they can use 100-octane gas," he explained.

"This alone will increase mileage and speed by about 50 per cent. The fuels in use at the present time have set the industry back about 12 years. They are 1933 fuel in 1941 engines."

Russell said urgent war problems have prevented manufacturers from consulting with scientists who have been developing new fuels for the car of the future.

"Manufacturers must build engines to utilize the new fuel properly," he declared. "This done, the initial cost will be cheaper and increased mileage will keep fuel costs down."

"These cars will be driven twice as fast as pre-war cars without strain or damage to the machine. The use of 100-octane gas will eliminate knocking and other engine difficulties."

Standard Oil, Russell added, is cooking up some tasty fuel for the postwar model.

Are You Getting Ready to GO "ALL OUT"?

Our men in the fighting services know what "all out" means. They have demonstrated it time and again. War may become a little remote to us at home... but there is nothing remote about it to the men who are fighting. For them, the war won't be over until the last shot is fired, and the last boat heads for home.

They will do the fighting. We must supply them with everything they need. More B-29's. More tanks. More landing craft. Mountains of ammunition, and 700,000 other items.

All this will cost as much this year as it did last year.

Army services in the famous American Cathedral in Paris, the handsome gray stone church which is almost a national landmark in the French capital. Swastika flags were draped over the pulpit and altar of the cathedral when American troops first entered Paris last summer. Now the pews are largely filled with olive drab at the four Sunday morning services, two of which are held by the Army. The choir, composed of officers and enlisted men and women both, has voluntarily set up compulsory rules governing attendance of the three weekly practice sessions, of three and one-half hours each. Members undergo a month's probationary period.

Under the direction of a former choral and glee club director, First Lt. T. J. Kropczynski, the choir also sings at army hospitals near Paris.

Truman Is Seen As Stabilizer Rather Than As Innovator

Government Expert Believes New President Better Qualified To Work With Congress

STATE COLLEGE, April 25.—A Pennsylvania State College government expert today visualized the first years of the Truman administration as a period of stabilization and consolidation of Roosevelt-instituted policies.

The remaining war years will bring innovations of only minor significance in the federal government set-up, national and international policies, according to Dr. Jacob Tanager, head of the political science department.

"The real test of Truman as a leader will come," he said, "when the military phases of the war cease and it becomes necessary to implement the peace program at home and abroad."

While Dr. Tanager believes the new president will adhere closely to the plans of his predecessor, he pointed out that Truman will be less inclined toward wide peacetime expenditure of public funds and also better qualified to work with Congress because of his senatorial experience.

Describing Truman as a "plain, good man, happily possessed of considerable political experience," the Penn State professor expressed the belief the new leader will not attempt to settle all problems himself but will seek advice from "the best brains in the country."

The way those Nazis are clinging to their bomb-blasted Berlin proves that even a rubbish heap can have sentimental attachment for some folks.

Stock Market Opening Strong

Trading Volume Expands During Morning Hours In New York Market

NEW YORK, April 24.—(INS)—Stocks opened strong and active this morning, gaining large fractions before second hour profit taking halted the advance. A number of leaders tapered from their highs. Trading volume expanded with the improvement, totaling 430,000 shares in the first hour vs. 330,000 yesterday.

Carrier issues maintained their leadership, advancing as much as 5-8 in a heavy volume at the opening. A few slacked off later but most remained ahead of yesterday. Bethlehem Steel spurted 7-8 then reacted 3-8.

Chrysler lost an early fractional gain. In the lower priced section Willis Overland moved up 5-8 to close 21. Aviation stocks gained ground. Coppers, rail equipments, and utilities were a share better. Chemicals and oils were quiet and firm.

Second grade rails continued higher in the bond market.

The Link Between

THE FOREST LANDS AND YOUR LOCAL LUMBER DEALER

Next time you visit your lumber dealer, observe the different kinds of wood. You'll probably find spruce from New England, pine from the Pacific Northwest, oak from the deep South and many more. Soon, you'll realize that here, in your local lumber yard, are woods from virtually every part of America.

Today, timbermen and lumber dealers have a dependable connection that helps make all this wood available to you. That "link between" is America's far-flung railroad network that constantly moves the products of the timberlands to your community.

Linking 13 great states with the nation, the Baltimore & Ohio is the "lumber supply route" for many lumber dealers located in the communities along our 11,000 miles of track. To help your lumber man fill your needs to the best of his ability, B&O's 70,000 men and women strive to give the finest in rail service... modern transportation, continually improved by progress.

Onkel Chor Goebbel's broadcast a radio message which he said was for all German soldiers in the field. Goebbel no doubt is under the impression a fellow has time to tune in when he is retreating at top speed.

Fatso Goering used to pride himself on being an excellent hunter. But that was before the days when he had nightmares of being pursued by an Eagle, a Lion and a Bear.

NEWS AND VIEWS AT CAPITAL

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 24.—The people on Capitol Hill who believe Gov. Edward Martin will be a candidate for the U. S. senate in November, 1946, are opposed by an equal number of persons claiming the chief executive will never enter the race. Governor Martin has hinted he would not be a candidate but many a politician has changed his mind when he gets close to campaign time. In politics since 1900, the governor has moved up through the ranks until he is a leader of one of the most potent Republican vote-getting machines in the nation.

Governor Martin has aroused enthusiasm for his program and won the genuine admiration of his opponents since he assumed office in January, 1943. Unlike his predecessor, Arthur H. James, Governor Martin has been successful in maintaining amicable relations with his cabinet and politicians. James' long feud with G. Graybill Diehm, Lancaster county GOP leader, was well known.

The release next week of bills which would authorize the state to acquire and free 10 toll bridges has been predicted by Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer. Shroyer said he had conferred with committee members and was assured the measures would be reported. Democratic sources, meanwhile, divulged a theory that the bills were sidetracked while highway officials bargained for a Harrisburg span reportedly appraised by the owner at $3,000,000.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about a pint a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisons matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from "your blood." Get Doan's Pills.
